

QUANTUM PHOTONIC CONNECTIONS
CONFERENCE

SYDNEY

Lecture Theatre 1 | School of Physics
The University of Sydney
Camperdown, Sydney, Australia
24 - 25 November 2016

MEALS AND REFRESHMENTS

Complimentary morning/afternoon tea will be served. Lunch is not included in conference registration (except on Friday); the scheduled lunch break time is open for attendees to explore some of the local restaurants and area. Sydney Uni Campuses have more than 30 places to eat, ranging from healthy juice bars to hearty pub meals (see attached map). There are also a few hundred cafes and restaurants within a few blocks of campus in Newtown on King Street (please see walking route to Newtown on map). Download the Sydney Uni app for on-the-go access to campus maps that will guide you to the closest eateries: sydney.edu.au/mobile

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ORAL PRESENTATIONS

Please check the program well in advance for the date and time of your presentation. Presenters are asked to:

- Please arrive at the Lecture Theatre five minutes before the start of the session
- Please upload your presentation file onto the device in the room for presentation and make sure that your file runs appropriately.

If you wish, you may use your laptop that has a VGA and/or HDMI output for the presentation.

POSTER SETUP INSTRUCTIONS

As a poster author, please leave your poster at the registration desk upon arrival. Posters must be removed from the boards following the poster session. Posters that remain on the boards will be discarded.

The poster session will be held in the Harry Messel Foyer at the Sydney Nanoscience Hub on Thursday afternoon. All registered attendees are invited to attend the poster session. This event will provide an opportunity to meet with colleagues, network, and view the poster papers.

Authors will be present at their posters to answer questions and provide in-depth discussions regarding their work.

The Organising Committee gratefully acknowledges the following contributors for their support of the Quantum Photonic Connections Conference.

PHOTONICS RESEARCH CENTRE

MQ Photonics Research Centre

PhD and MRes opportunities in Optics and Photonics

MQ Photonics is a large and vibrant Macquarie University Research Centre with some 45 staff and over 40 research students, supported by an extensive suite of state-of-the-art laboratories and world-class facilities. The Centre has strong involvement in three ARC Centres of Excellence: CNBP, CUDOS and EQU.S.

Our research is grouped around six research banners:

Photonics sources/laser applications
Photonics for life and health sciences
Astrophotonics

Natural and engineered optical materials
Photonics for the environment
Quantum photonics – fundamental & applied

We offer a diverse range of research projects for PhD and Masters candidates together with scholarships for suitably qualified applicants
